Diplomatic Radio Service.

2. In July 1951, technical work on the Berlin-Prague and Berlin-Peiping radio links was completed and trial operations were concluded. Frequencies of 3375 and 6975 kcs were used for the connection with Prague. For communications with Peiping the following frequencies and call signs were used:

9067 kcs - DLA
7537 " - DLA 2
16353 " - DLA 3
17395 " - DLA 4
19443 " - DLA 5.

From these frequencies the frequency most suitable for the season and the time of the day was selected. The radio links will be put into operation after approval of these frequencies by the SGC.

3. In July 1951, the radio station in Moscow was still under construction.
4. Trial operations were hampered by the poor efficiency of radio operators assigned to the Foreign Ministry and the various diplomatic missions. The output of the 1.2 kw transmitter in Koenigswusterhausen used for these trial operations and controlled from the Foreign Ministry was not always adequate for satisfactory communications between Berlin and Peking.
